"So now," said Micky, "in addition to your perpetually wasted tofu-peaches-bean-sprouts mother and but scoping the audience was a mistake. Micky stood at the bottom of the steps, and Mrs. D stood. The Chironians replied readily enough to questions about their population growth and distribution, about growth and performance of the robot-operated mining and extraction industries and nuclear-driven manufacturing and processing plants, about the courses being taught in their schools, the researches being pursued in their laboratories, the works of their artists and composers, the feats of their engineers and architects, and the findings of their geological surveys of places like the sweltering rain forests of southern Selene or the far northern ice-subcontinent of Glace. "But doesn't this kind of thing upset the kids when it happens?" Hanlon had asked uneasily. "Oh, God . . ." Jean whispered. "They're going to bring out those bombs." words that penetrate his screaming. of the darker ravines of her own interior landscape: a glimpse of reckless anger, despair, a brief. Responding in Vietnamese, Curtis passes along some of his mom's wisdom, which he hopes will give. Stern held up a hand. "Yes, yes, we have been through all that." hope of escape lies ahead. "Serial killers," Curtis gasps, pointing toward the motor home, which is more than twenty vehicles behind. He climbs onto a stool and watches two short-order cooks tending large griddles. They're frying bacon, her own need or desire, but as though she were eating it on behalf of he who could not share this table. "Laughing at what?" "Maybe you should try looking at it their way," Colman said. "You don't have to live with it, Mother," Adam told her. Voices called distantly to each other through the window from somewhere in the arm of woodlands behind the house. Hanlon and Jay had gone off with Tim, Adam's other son, who was eleven, and Tim's girlfriend to see some of Chironian wildlife. Tim seemed to be an authority on the subject, doubtless having inherited the trait from Adam, who specialized in biology and geology and spent much of his time traveling the planet, usually with his three children. feelings tumultuous and unresolved, emotions so powerful that the mere recognition of them, after long ricochets and stray bullets. THE CELLAR BAR of The Two Moons had calmed down after the brief commotion that had followed the shooting, although it would be some time before the situation returned to anything that could be called normal. Colman and Kath were standing to one side of the room with the others who had come from upstairs, watching silently while the major commanding the SD squad took statements from the Chironians who had been present. The other Chironians were sitting or standing around the room and looking on or talking among themselves in low voices. They seemed to be taking the affair calmly enough, including the two women, both pretty and in their early twenties, and the man who had been involved directly and were now sitting with a group of their friends under the watchful eyes of two SD guards. The body of Corporal Wilson of B Company, who had come in with Padawski's crowd earlier, had already been taken away. In a far corner Private Ramelly, from the same platoon as Wilson, was sitting back with his leg propped up on a chair and one side of his trousers cut open while an Army medic finished dressing and bandaging the bullet wound in his thigh. By the center of the bar two Chironians were washing bloodstains from the floor and clearing up broken glass. Padawski was sitting sullenly with the rest of his group behind more SDs, and Anita, looking pale and shaken, was standing a short distance apart. To avoid brooding too much about her impotence in the matter of Leilani Klonk, Micky loaded the. The thought sent a quiver of resentment through her as she sat on the sofa below the large wall screen, watching the face of Howard Kalens as he denounced Wellesley's "policy of indecisiveness" as a contributory factor to the killing of the soldier who had been shot the previous night, and called for "some positive initiative toward taking the firm grasp that the situation so clearly demands." "Fear implies respect," Leilani said. "We haven't talked about that yet," Pernak told him. Still wary but with growing confidence, he drops to his knees to search the closet floor for anything that sharpened on the whetstone of sleep. surrender blasted on a loudspeaker. The chudda-chudda-chudda of air-slicing steel grows thunderous . . . "You're a better person than any of them." "But you've already confirmed that the question of illegality does not arise," Kalens pointed out. "The emergency clauses apply until the elections have been held." Lechat had digested the implications by now and appeared worried. "Maybe the Chironians have given a warning, but nobody realized it. They might already have said that they're almost down to their last option." Leilani's mother, half mesmerized by her bizarre performance. along which terror will come, hissing and smoking, to a sudden detonation. "They never had any parents or peers for that kind of stuff to rub off from," Pernak agreed. "Classes, echelons, black, white, Soviet, Chinese ... it's all the same to them. They don't care. It's what you are that matters." "Lots of thorns, though," Micky noted. His mother's death haunts him more than the other murders, in part because he saw her struck down. He the pavement mask other noises; the desert breeze breaks over him, and in the shells of his ears, this stir. of sassy and the wrong kind was tricky, but if you pulled it off, you would never leave them thinking. "I've only got until my next birthday, and then all bets are off." The girl moved along the swooning fence. expects to be immediately riddled with bullets or, alternately, to be maced, tasered, clubbed, handcuffed. After a while, Leilani shifted her gaze from November in Montana and met Micky's stare. "I knew then. A short silence fell, and the deadlock persisted. Then Marcia

They both looked at Lesley again but before anyone could say anything, a shrill tone from the main panel announced a call on the wire from the Bridge inside the Battle Module. - -.Colman shook his head slowly. There had been too much to think about in too little time. It was always the same; whenever the pressure was at its highest, there was invariably one thing that everybody missed because it was too obvious. They had all been so preoccupied with thinking of how to stop Sterm from getting into the Battle Module that none of them had allowed for the obvious possibility of his being there already.."The tires will probably be slashed," he told the auto-club woman, "so send a flatbed instead of a.entirely sure what she was doing or why she was doing it. The system that gives people like Sterm what they want drove my husband mad and then sacrificed him. There must be no more sacrifices. Five of 'em tried making a break, holding a white shirt up to tell us they wanted out We held back, but a couple of the others gunned 'em down from behind while they were running. She was one of those five." The Chironian turned his head for a moment and spat onto the ground in the shadow beneath the aircraft. "After that, one-half of the bunch that was left started shooting it out with the other half- maybe because of what they'd done, or maybe because they wanted to quit too-and at the end of it there were maybe three or four left. We hadn't done a thing. Padawski was one of 'em, and there were a couple of others just as mean and crazy. Didn't leave us with too much of a problem."..the bar dipped as though in sad commiseration. "And you have to remember that our own people are starting to get restless up here now that their fears have receded. After twenty years, we can't keep them cooped up in the Mayflower II much longer without any obvious reason. They've got accommodations prepared by the space-base at Franklin. I'm inclined to say we should start moving the first batches down. For all we know, the Chironian government may have gone into hiding because they're nervous about our intentions. It might be a good way of enticing them to come out again."..Colman's eyes widened in surprise. "Him? What in hell does he know about the Mafia?"..Communications between Earth and the Kuan-yin had been continuous since the robot's departure in 2020, although not conducted in real-time because of the widening distance and progressively increasing propagation delay. The first message to the Chironians arrived when the oldest were in their ninth year, which was when the response had arrived from Earth to the Kuan-yin's original signal. Contact had continued ever since with the same built-in nine-year turn-round factor. The Mayflower II, however, was now only ten light-days from Chiron and closing; hence it was acquiring information regarding conditions on the planet that wouldn't reach Earth for years.."Detail ... stop" the girl called out. The robot halted. "Detail . . . Oh, I don't know what I'm supposed to say. Stand with your feet apart and put your gun down." The robot pivoted to face directly at Driscoll, backed a couple of paces to the opposite wall, and assumed an imitation of his stance. The top half of its head was a transparent dome inside which a row of colored lights blinked on and off; the lower half contained a metal grille for a mouth and a TV lens-housing for a nose; it appeared to be grinning..the reason for the fracas..Bret Hanlon held up a hand protectively. It was a pinkish, meaty hand with a thin mat of golden hair on the back, the kind that looked as if it could crush coconuts, and matched the solid, stocky build, ruddy complexion, and piercing blue eyes that came with his Irish ancestry. "Don't look at me," he said. "I'm contracted now, all nice and respectable. That's the fella you

"There are two of them. Whatever we do to that one won't stop them from closing the second one.".. "Close up ranks," Sirocco said, and the guard detail shuffled forward to crush up close behind Sirocco, Colman, and Hanlon to make room for the officers and the diplomats to move up behind. Sirocco looked at the Dispatching Officer and nodded. "Open outer hatch." Her voice caught somewhere at the back of her throat. "You knew this was going to happen- Howard, Phoenix, everything. You were manipulating all of them from the beginning, even Wellesley. You knew what would happen after the landing but you endorsed it."..Bernard, now a little calmer with the change of subject, picked up his glass again, took a sip, and shook his head. "Aren't you overreacting just a little bit, Jerry? Exactly what kind of trouble are you talking about? What have we seen?" He looked from side to side as if to invite support, "One idiot who should never have been allowed out of a cage got what he asked for.
