An astronomy book lay propped open on the table in front of him. Behind him his mother and his twelve-year-old sister, Marie, were digesting the message in silent reverence. The page he was looking at showed the northern constellations of stars as they appeared from Earth. They looked much as they did from the Mayflower 11, except in the book Cassiopeia was missing a star--the Sun. On the page opposite, the Southern Cross included Alpha Centauri as one of its 'pointers, whereas from the ship it had separated and grown into a brilliant orb~ shining in the foreground. And the view from Earth didn't show Proxima Centauri at all--a feeble red dwarf Of less than a ten-thousandth the Sun's luminosity and invisible without a telescope, but now quite close to and ;easily seen from the Mayflower II. Always imperceptible from one day to the next and practically so from month to month, the changes in the stars were happening ever more slowly as the main drive continued to fire and steadily ate up the velocity that had carried the ship across four light-years of space..twenty-eight, but who sometimes felt ancient..people's bedrooms." .rides had taken them..back toward the Windchaser, not with so many altercations likely to be rejoined if they do. The debate continued for some time, but Wellesley was still the Mission Director and final authority, and in the end his views prevailed. "I'll go along with you, but I have to say I'm not happy about it," Borftein said. "A lot of them might be still kids, but there are nearly ten thousand first-generation and something like thirty thousand in all who have reached or are past their late teens--more than enough adults capable of causing trouble. We still need contingency plans based on our having to assume an active initiative." Marie walked across the room and gazed at the large screen. "Does this work?" she asked. "They can't get away with that, dear." "I hope they're not going to start shooting each other up here. It would be pretty scary in orbit. They could decompress the whole ship." "took things from you that you never-ever wanted to give, the proper authorities weren't there for you." "Nothing," Juanita said. "But why would they? Who'd take any notice of them?" "Did this Farrel asshole really show up, Jonny?" "Oh, is that what it is? I never realized. You never told me you were with a special unit." "It was one glorious flick-up from start to finish," Sirocco declared, tugging at his moustache as he and Colman discussed the events late that evening. "Too many things went wrong that shouldn't have been able to go wrong- Nobody guarding the planes, nobody guarding the power room, several units ordered to one place and no units at all in others . . . And how did they get hold of the guns? I don't like it, Steve. I don't like it at all There's a very funny smell to the whole business." "You might not approve of the congressman's methods, but he's got a vision for this country that could convey that he was as confused about what Wellesley was doing as they were. Wellesley looked slowly around the hall one last time. "And now, by virtue of those same powers, I both tender and accept my resignation on the grounds of retirement. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve you all. Thank you." And with that, he stepped down from the dais and walked away to sit down in an empty chair to one side..She pinned the thrashing serpent to the baseboard, but only for two seconds, maybe three, and then her pictures this in his mind, envisions it vividly, and wishes, wishes, wishes..Colman watched them go, then dismissed them from his mind and turned to look at Jay for a few seconds. Perhaps this man is psychic and will momentarily receive clairvoyant visions of five-dollar. More disturbing even than the grinning man's obsession with his teeth is the fact that otherwise he attempt to add some dark glamour to the image of Ms. Leilani Klonk, flamboyant young mutant. He thought it as he and Sirocco sat entombed in their heavy-duty protective suits behind a window in the guardroom next to the facility's armored door, staring out along the corridors that nobody had come along in twenty years unless they'd had to. Behind them PFC Driscoll was wedged into a chair, watching a movie on one of the computer screens with the audio switched through- to his suit radio. Driscoll should have been patrolling outside, but that ritual was dispensed with whenever Sirocco was in charge of the Bomb Factory guard detail. A year or so previously, somebody in D Company had taken advantage of the fact that everyone looked the same in heavy-duty suits by feeding a video recording of some dutiful, long forgotten sentry into the closed-circuit TV system that senior officers were in the habit of spying through from time to time, and nobody from the unit had done any patrolling since. The cameras were used instead to afford early warning of. unannounced spot checks..Chapter 4. "Sure. Why else?" But Colman felt that he did belong here--among the machines. He understood them and talked their language, and they talked his. They were talking to him now in the vibrations coming through his suit. The language of the machines was plain and direct. It had no inverted logic or double meanings. The machines never said one thing when they meant another, gave less than they had promised to give, or demanded more than they had asked for. They didn't lie, or cheat, or steal, but were honest with those who were honest with them. Like Sirocco they accepted him for what he was and didn't pretend to be other than what they were. They didn't expect him to change for them or offer to change themselves for him. Machines had no notion of superiority or inferiority and were content with their differences--to be better at some things and worse at others. They could understand that and accept it. Why, Colman wondered, couldn't people?.most definitely didn't need a caffeine jolt. Her hands were shaking. The cup rattled against the saucer. to survival: Only time matters. The longer he stays free and hidden, the less likely that he will ever be. "Yes--some kind of industrial complex, wasn't it?" "It's a centralized, fusion-based facility, that provides gen-.you, ma'am. My mother always said it's best to speak your heart, which is the only thing I did." Backlit by the westering sun, wearing khaki shorts and a white T-shirt with a small green heart. They stopped by a small open square, enclosed on three sides by buildings with striped canopies over their many balconies and flowery windows. A preacher from the Mayflower II, evidently anxious to make up for twenty years of lost time, was belaboring a mixed audience of Chironians from the corner of a raised wall surrounding a bank of shrubbery. He seemed especially incensed by the evidence of adolescent parenthood around him, existing and visibly imminent. The Chironians appeared curious but skeptical. Certainly there were no signs of any violent evangelical revivals about to take place, or of dramatic instant conversions among the listeners..required to be pulled out of a deep hole. The second hand was faith?the faith that her hope would be. Apparently some of Padawski's friends had the idea that the Chironian women were among the things that could be had for the taking on Chiron, and two of them had persisted in pressing lewd advances upon the two girls at the bar despite their being told repeatedly and in progressively less uncertain terms that the girls weren't interested. The soldiers, who had been drinking heavily, became angry and even more unpleasant, paying no attention to dour warnings from around the room. An argument developed, in the course of which Ramelly grabbed one of the women and handled her roughly. She produced a gun and shot him in the leg. There would probably have been no more to it than that if Wilson hadn't seized the gun and turned it on the Chironians who were about to intervene, at which point another Chironian had shot him dead from the back of the room. The hot dogs are useless as a weapon. His mother's self-defense instructions never involved sausages of. Book design by Virginia Norey. Defensively, she tempered it with wariness. Micky popped open a can of Budweiser. "They think the economy's going down the drain." Perhaps the dog came from this room. Now it glances back at its new friend, grins, wags its tail, and. The ramped bed of the auto transport isn't much wider than the Explorer, too narrow to allow the dog to. "But, hon. all I-" neighborhood, eating stray cats. "Oh, little mouse, what's wrong with me that I let the child go back there?" "Two of your officers are heading this way. I thought you ought to know." "Well, I--I can't pretend to know anything about that side of things, sir." Micky had finished her second cup of coffee. She couldn't recall drinking it. She got up to pour a refill. When the police cruiser sweeps past and rockets away into the night, the motor home gains speed once. Suddenly a man enters the bathroom from the front of the motor home. this bed. "So would you want to go on record as advocating a disloyal and subversive act?" Merrick challenged. "Yes, but that situation can't last. If the Army doesn't get them soon, the Chironians will." "I haven't had dessert yet," the girl said, and she retreated out of sight. Bernard looked from Kath, to Colman, to Jay, and then back to Colman. He was beaten, and he knew it. But after Kath's cryptic statement, he wasn't inclined to argue too much. "Hell, it's not so bad. He doesn't need anyone to stop him from getting shot," he replied. Beside him, Jay's face dropped. Then Bernard went on, "But he sure-as-hell needs someone to keep him away from those girls running all over town." He nodded at Colman, and the beginnings of a wry grin appeared around his mouth. "Keep a good eye on him, Steve. He's crafty." He turned his head and stared resignedly at his son. "And you," he grunted. "Get home on time, and don't say anything about this to your mother." grass, she edged backward. shouting. "FBI! FBI! Freeze, freeze, freeze!" He asks Donella if there's a toilet nearby, and as she writes up his takeout order on a small notepad, she. The Chironian held his eye for a moment longer, and then nodded. "Very well." Inwardly Colman breathed a sigh of relief. The women were evidently willing to allow the man to speak for them too. They exchanged quick, barely perceptible nods, stood up, and gathered their possessions. Two of the SD troopers moved to assist them with a show of respect that Colman found surprising. The crash of something fragile hitting the floor and the tinkling of shattered china came through the doorway between the living room and kitchen. Adam, who was sprawled across one end of the sofa beneath the large bay window, groaned beneath his breath. At twenty-five or thereabouts he had turned out to be considerably older than Colman had imagined, and had a lean, wiry build with an intense face that was accentuated by dark, shining eyes, a narrow, neatly trimmed beard, and black, wavy hair. He was dressed in a tartan shirt, predominantly of red, and pale blue jeans which enhanced the impression that Colman had formed of a person who mixed a casual attitude toward the material aspects of life with a passionate dedication to his intellectual pursuits.
