"I'll take those names from you, Irioth, but not your own." The next day she said, "I'm going to sit under the trees." Not sure what was expected of him, he followed her at a distance till they came to the inmost part of the Grove where all the trees were of the same kind, nameless yet each with its own name. When she sat down on the soft leaf mold between the roots of a big old tree, he found himself a place not far away to sit; and as she watched and listened and was still, he watched and listened and was still. we know of ancient times in Earthsea is to be found in poems and songs, passed down orally for centuries before they were ever written. The Creation of Ea, the oldest and most sacred poem, is at least two thousand years old in the Hardic language; its original version may have existed millennia before that. Its thirty-one stanzas tell how Segoy raised the islands of Earthsea in the beginning of time and made all beings by naming them in the Language of the Making-the language in which the poem was first spoken..WRITING.century, in the Inner Lands of the Archipelago, only village women kept up rituals and offerings."I have no doubt of that, my lord," said Azver, "but I doubt she will go-".faintest idea what that damned rast looked like -- and after about ten steps I saw a silvery funnel.I turned away.
