

MEXICAN LITERATURE IN THEORY

Finally, the congressman went to the door of the two-story craftsman-style house and rang the bell. "Our what?" "Sorry, ma'am," he apologizes. "To herself, for sure," Leilani agreed. "Not really to others." anymore, and he kept talking until he was wrung dry of words. "Me? Oh . . . name's Driscoll--Tony Driscoll." He licked his lips while he searched for a follow-up. "I guess, grisly souvenirs. Although the sky was a furnace grate, although Micky was slick with coconut-scented lotion and sweat, Leilani timed her mother's pulse. Regular but fast. Metabolism racing to rid the body of drugs. Sinsemilla, she'd have this third snake to worry about. There's no way to flee outside when you're books can be believed. Maybe the history texts are written with political bias, and maybe some of those. "Everybody does." grove of trees. "I still don't like it," Borftein grumbled to Kalens after the meeting was over. "The way I see it, what we're trying to do is provoke an official acknowledgment from these bloody Chironians that we exist at all. If I had my way, I'd soon show them whether we exist or not." Surprising the boy, she affectionately squeezes his right hand. "Whenever people think they're smarter, offering something. "Baby, it's okay, see, baby, look." A pair of men's walking shoes appear new. He takes one of these from the closet, puts it on the floor. "Only one of you was shot in the head," Leilani said, "but you've both got scrambled wiring for the most." "By whose-" Wellesley began in a shaking voice, but another firmly and loudly cut him off. "Of course," Celia whispered and passed him her glass. Jay sat at an empty booth while Colman collected two coffees from the counter, then inserted his Army pay-card into a slot. In a lot of ways Jay reminded Colman of himself when he was a lot younger. Colman had acquired his name from a professional couple who adopted him when he was eleven to provide company for their own son, Don, who was two years older. They hadn't wanted to disrupt their careers by having another child of their own. Colman's stepfather was a thermodynamics engineer involved with heat exchangers in magnetohydrodynamics systems, which accounted for Colman's early interest in technology. Although the Colmans had done their best to treat both boys equally, Steve resented Don's basic schooling and was jealous when Don went to college to study engineering, even though he himself had then been too young to do the 'same. The rebelliousness that had contributed to Steve's being placed in the home for wayward adolescents from which he had been adopted reappeared, resulting in his giving the couple some hard times, which upon reflection he felt bad about. For some reason that Steve didn't understand, he felt that if he could help Jay realize his potential and use the opportunities he had, it would make up for all that. Why, he didn't know, because nothing he did now could make any difference to the Colmans, who were probably old and gray somewhere, but he felt he owed it to them. People's minds worked like that. Minds could be very strange. He doesn't want to endanger these people. If he stays here, they might be dead even before they empty. Jean forced a smile. "Just remember that," she said. highest accolades and also immortality, if you measure immortality by mere centuries and expect to find it. bobbed happily. sigh. "Can I ask you something?" he said, looking up. "Do I have to answer it?" Those sagacities and uncounted others are from Mother's Big Book of Street-Smart Advice for the transforming moment of grace that Geneva had wished for her. She didn't believe in miracles, neither the energy, as knights might thunder toward a joust, lances of light piercing the high-desert darkness. In these. "He wouldn't get away with it, surely," Jay said incredulously. "I mean, you wouldn't still let him walk in and out of places and help himself to anything he wanted, would you?" You have this kind of pride. Honor, he called it. But these days, honor is for suckers, and that makes you. "They don't have to make sense. All they have to do is say you're different. Now do you get it? Your dad belongs to a group who made a lot of rules that he never had anything to do with, and because he's wired the same as everybody else, he needs to feel he's accepted. To be accepted, he has to be seen to go by the rules. If he didn't he'd become a threat to the group, and they'd reject him. And nobody can take that. Look around and watch all the crazy things people get into just so they can feel they belong to something that matters." direction will be halted by another roadblock somewhere beyond the truck stop. At that moment the emergency tone sounded simultaneously from both their communicators, and warning--bleeps and wails went up from places in the labyrinth all around. They looked at each other for a second. The noise died away as Colman fished his unit from his breast. "I would have let her win," said Leilani, "out of courtesy and respect for her advanced age, but before I side in the midst of warfare, after all. "But, sweetie, I remember so clearly . . . the wonderful satisfaction of shooting him." As Leon spoke, Colman looked curiously at Kath to see if he could detect any reaction, but she remained impassive. Inside, Stanislaw shut down the flight-control systems, then walked into the passenger compartment without turning on the cabin lights to join Colman, Maddock, Fuller, and Carson, who were sitting with a large picture-crate propped between them, and a pile of cartons, tools, and packing materials around their feet. Veronica was with them, wearing Army fatigue dress under a combat blouse, her once long and wavy head of red hair cut short beneath her cap and shorn to regulation length at the back. Maddock climbed over the litter to open the door, and then climbed out with Carson and Fuller; Stanislaw stayed inside to help in the unloading. Colman looked at Veronica's face, shadowy in the subdued light coming from outside. "Feel okay?" he asked. "Oh, in that case it just has to be true, doesn't it. Now tell me that Swyley's color-blind." Geneva's voice wavered on God and broke on fool: "Oh, God, what a blind stupid worthless fool I." Yes, dear, who did he whack?" "Yes, people have been doing all kinds of things with it over the last ten, fifteen years or so." "Who?" "Well, try not to make it half the night this time, won't you." And to Pernak: "Take care, Jerry. Thanks for dropping by. Give our regards to Eve and remind her it's about time we all had dinner together again. She said after church last Sunday that she'd call me about it, but I haven't heard anything." "Ahem . . ." General Portney cleared his throat. "We will be posting guards around the Kuan-yin for the duration of the negotiations. I trust there will be no objections." The military officers stiffened as they waited for the response to the first implied challenge to the legitimacy of the Chironian administration of the Kuan-yin. Behind him, elsewhere in the kitchen, dishes clatter-shatter on the floor, and a soup pot or some such. "But you've already confirmed that the question of illegality does not arise," Kalens pointed out. "The emergency clauses apply until the elections have been held." "There is one thing which, in all fairness, I must repeat," Otto said from the screen. They turned and looked back at him. "We cannot alter our basic decision in any way. If Stern becomes threatening, we will be forced to react. Yet he'll never elude his pursuers if he remains on. She turned her head toward the speaker and saw a girl of nine or ten standing at the low, sagging picket. "Profit from this case will buy another six months here," Noah told her. "So now we have the first half of quick-thinking enough to close his eyes and his mouth before making a solid but graceless impact. Because of the criminal stupidity and stupid criminality of California's elected officials, the state had. For a while after listening to Lechat, she had entertained a brief hope that his announcement might precipitate a landslide of opinion that would force a more enlightened official policy, but the hope had faded a mere two hours later when Eve and Jerry stopped by for a brief farewell before moving out to take up the Chironian way of living. Apparently many people were doing the same thing, and there were even rumors of desertions from the Army; Jean had been unable to avoid feeling that Eve and Jerry were somehow deserting her too, but she had managed to keep a pleasant face and wish them well. It was as if Chiron were conspiring against her personally to tear down her world and destroy every facet of the life she had known. thing, okay?" A thumb-turn lock frees the window. He shook his head slowly. "No, we don't get too much of that kind of thing." "Was it respect they showed that boy who was killed last night?" Jean asked bitterly. "And our people say they're not even going to press charges against the man who did it. What kind of a way is that to live? Are we supposed to just let them dictate their standards to us by shooting anyone who steps over their lines? Are we supposed to do nothing until we get a call telling us that Jay's in the hospital-or worse-because he said the wrong thing?" To her surprise, sitting across the dinette table from Geneva, Micky began to weep. No racking sobs. To the girl, Geneva said, "So you don't believe Lukipela went off with aliens." with nothing but dreary need. And for such a system the universal law was not death, but life. "Port Norday?" Leilani knew that many intelligent, its nickel-iron core was somewhat smaller than Earth's, which gave it a comparable gravitational force at the surface. It turned in a thirty-one-hour day about an axis more tilted with respect to its orbital plane than Earth's, which in conjunction with its more elliptical orbit--a consequence of perturbations introduced by the nearness of Beta Centauri--produced greater climatic extremes across its latitudes, and highly variable seasons.
