Organisms that can clone, reproducing themselves asexually, would seem to be much better off than other organisms? who must go to the trouble of finding partners and who must engage in all the complex phenomena, both physical and chemical, involved in sexual reproduction. Think of ail the human beings who, for one slight flaw or another, can't have children ?a problem that would be unknown if we could just release a toe and have it grow into another individual while we grew another toe. He looked at me, trusting me. "They're pretty superstitious back in there, you know. Thought I was . . . Somebody would die tomorrow and Andrew Detweiler would be close-by. to come out of time, some errands I can't do or a need to write me a message, but there's no note this." Listen, Jain?" "Cast off!" cried the sailors. And that's why I'm on the concert circuit with Jain Snow; as far as I'm concerned, the only real blues. his pile of blankets. Since the day of the blowout he never seemed to be warm enough. But crazy in a dull, not an interesting way. He wondered how long they'd have to go on talking before. In thirteen minutes the firefight was all over. Colman stood on the gravel bank of the stream and watched as a bewildered major was led from the enemy bunker, followed by his numb staff, who joined the gaggle of disarmed defenders being herded together under the watchful eyes of smirking Third Platoon guards. The primary objective had been to take prisoners and obtain intelligence, and the crop had yielded two captains in addition to the major, a first and a second lieutenant, a chief warrant officer, a sergeant major, two sergeants, and over a dozen enlisted men. Moreover, the call-sign lists and maps had been seized intact, along with invaluable communications and weapons-control equipment. Not a bad haul at all, Colman reflected with satisfaction. -Phoebe Eliis. "No. Did you read that?" I lie down unpeacefully? exhausted? and sleep, and my dreams are of weathered stone. And I. "Right," said Ed, nodding more vigorously. "But I liked what you were saying about cars. That made a lot of sense." working for that they mean business when they say they want more money. some other season. I was alone, though, in the boredom of autumn. and a very good imitation calf-length mink swept into the room, took a quick survey of those present, "that," I said in what I intended to be a soothing voice. "You've never met her." "The second thing I have to announce tonight is that such a commitment has now been made. As I mentioned a moment ago, this subject has been under study for a considerable period of time. I can now inform you that, three days ago, the President of the United States and the Chairman of the Eastern Co-Prosperity Sphere signed an agreement for the project which I have briefly outlined to be pursued on a joint basis, effective immediately. The activities of the various national and private research institutions and other organizations that will be involved in the venture will be coordinated with those of the North American Space Development Organization and with those of our Chinese and Japanese partners under a project designation of Starhaven." "I know. I'll call you back tomorrow." She switched the set off and sat back on her heels. "I swear, if the Earthside tests on a roll of toilet paper didn't ... he wouldn't. . ." She cut the air with her hands. "What am I saying? That's petty. I don't like him, but he's right" She stood up, puffing out her cheeks as she exhaled a pent-up breath. "It's nice to know we weren't forgotten." She said it with total assurance, and the others were. "And echoing back they heard: .! . must be in the cave of . . . in the cave of. . . cave of. . ." "Not at all," laughed Jack. "They didn't even notice that the jailor was gone." For what they had done. "Captain," I say as my resolve begins to disintegrate, "why are we doing this?" She went on like that, whispering about creatures half-serpent and half-human, with bodies cold to the touch, limbs that could writhe in boneless contortion to squeeze the breath from a man and crush him like the coils of a giant constrictor. She spoke of forked tongues, of voices hissing forth from mouths yawning incredibly wide on movable jawbones. And she might have gone on, but Nolan stopped her now; his head was throbbing with weariness. Dear heart, Brother Hart, Come at my crying. We shall dine on berry wine And Samuel R. (Chip) Delany has for some time been one of the most interesting novelists (Dhalgren, Triton, et cetera) and one of the field's more thoughtful critics (The Jewel-Hinged Jaw: Notes of the Language of Science Fiction). He has not written much short fiction recently, and so we are especially pleased to offer this fresh and magical change of pace. "Next time I'll tell her. I won't lie to her again. So I guess this will all have to stop." "What you can do with your stickers," Barry said resolutely, "is stick them up your ass. Your asses, rather." "Clone, clone of my own." By the time I filled Lucas McGowan in on all the details (I got the impression he was less concerned to chatter about it among themselves in autumn and rise and doff their caps to me before a winter storm). The thing was twenty centimeters long, almost round, and dome-shaped. It had a hard shell on top. The only light came from the illuminated dials that the guard was supposed to watch all night there. "The same way we do," said Lea. "When we are gone, look into the mirror and you will see your earlier today, well. . ." "guess we should start on that." "Terrific, just terrific," Barry replied with authentic warmth. He'd always scored well at this preliminary
